

|                  |              |                           |   |   |   |
|------------------|--------------|---------------------------|---|---|---|
| Digestive Health | Colon Cancer | Blackcurrant Anthocyanins | 45 Healthy subjects aged 20-60 years old, 50%male/female per group, total 3 groups (n=15) | For Colon Cancer. To assess in healthy humans the effects of AOCE and CAM30 administration on the population size of some faecal microflora(Good and bad bacteria). To assess the effect on selected metabolic indexes potentially involved in colonic carcinogenesis (some bacterial enzymes and stool PH). Both molecular and biochemical methods will be used to assess these effects. | Massey UniversityDr. Abdul L. Molan,et al |
|------------------|--------------|---------------------------|---|---|---|